Task Force 'Is on Prowl'

Domel Agency Says in Broadcast

San Francisco, May 21 (AP)—An Allied task force "again is on the prowl" and "appears to be attempting to approach Kyushu," the Japanese Domel agency said in a broadcast intercepted by the F.C.C. yesterday.

The dispatch noted that since last Thursday Allied carrier aircraft raids against Kyushu and the Amami archipelago, south of Kyushu, had been increasing, and since dawn Saturday the "enemy" has been active over that area.

It added: "In view of the northward strike of enemy warships on May 13 and 14, coupled with the fact that the enemy task force again is on the prowl after leaving its bases in the Marlinas, we can surmise that the enemy is up to some new scheme. The enemy armada appears to be attempting to approach Kyushu, but we cannot as yet predict what course the enemy fleet will take."

Students Are Mobilized

San Francisco, May 21 (AP)—"Civilian developments in the war situation" today led Japan to mobilize its 20,000,000 students on a full wartime basis "actively to participate in the defense of the homeland," the Japanese Domel news agency said. The dispatch, recorded by the F.C.C., said the mobilization order effective tomorrow would convert all students in educational institutions from the universities down into a "student corps."

The dispatch, garbled in spots, said a diploma would be granted for unfinished studies "in case of death."

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 21 (AP)—Scattered stocks managed to advance moderately in today's market but many leaders were unable to overcome profit taking handicaps.

Plus marks were fairly well distributed after the opening. Trends then began to waver and, near the fourth hour, declines of fractions to a point or so predominated.

Dealings slowed up on the retreat. Earnings, dividends and peace-time optimism served as early bidding arguments. Customers, however, generally inclined to cash in on the theory that last week's recovery to an average high mark since 1937 might touch off another technical reaction.

Bonds were spotty. Commodities turned uneven with the futures strong.

183 New Citizens At Legion Program In Their Honor

Supreme Court Justice Roscoe W. Elsworth was the principal speaker Sunday afternoon at a reception given under auspices of Kingston Post, American Legion, to the 183 foreign born residents of Ulster county who became citizens by naturalization during the past year.

The ceremonies held in observance of "I Am An American Day" were at the Legion Memorial building on West O'Reilly street and were under the direction of Morton Finch, past commander and chairman of the local Legion Americanization committee. Thomas Bohann, commander of the Post, welcomed the guests, including a group now preparing for appearance before the next term of naturalization court and several who have become over 21 years of age since May 20 last year.

The meeting was opened when Past Commander Morton Finch called on Lt. Col. Carey, sergeant of the color guard to advance the colors. While this was being done, Frank M. Soss, a veteran of World War I, sounded "Call to Colors" on the bugle. Miss Dorothy Groves sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and also led in the singing of "I Am An American" and "God Bless America." The Rev. Clarence E. Brown, chaplain of the post opened the meeting with prayer.

Mayor William F. Edelmuht welcomed the guests to the service and Justice Roscoe W. Elsworth then addressed the meeting. At the conclusion of the service the Pledge of Allegiance was given, led by Richard DeKay and Henry Millonig, members of Court Troop 11.

Justice Elsworth Speaks

Justice Elsworth in addressing the men and women who had become citizens since last year, stated that in a neighboring county he had on the evening of V-E Day presided over his first naturalization term of court and at that time he had pointed out what an honor and privilege they had in being admitted at such an historic hour in the history of what was about to become their country—an hour which would forever stand forth as a symbol to the whole world, "not alone of the tremendous resources, courage, strength and power of the United States of America, but of its humanity, its unselfishness, and its willingness to sacrifice for mankind and its fellow men in the true spirit of democracy."

The importance of the day, being observed throughout the land by proclamation of the late President Roosevelt, he pointed out saying that at similar receptions being held throughout the land there were assemblages of native-born and naturalized men and women upon whom the importance of citizenship was being impressed and the responsibilities of such citizenship was being pointed out.

Importance of such gatherings had been recognized by Congress back in 1940 when the third Sunday in May was set apart to be observed as "I Am An American Day."

Invitations had been extended to the 183 foreign born men and women of Ulster county who were naturalized during the past year. Those men and women have joined the 11,049 others who have been naturalized by the Supreme Court of Ulster county in the 113 years since 1830. More than 60 nationalities have been represented by those admitted during that time.

"Each one of you can feel highly honored in that you chose to become a citizen of our great country here in Ulster county—one of the three thousand odd citizens of the United States that we, its sons and daughters, feel can be singled out as particularly important, and one of the 62 countries in the great Empire state of New York that is rich in history. It is a locality in which the practice of liberty, justice and tolerance has always been considered a patriotic duty," said Justice Elsworth. He called attention to the richness of this locality in historical background, dating back to September 3, 1614 when Hendrick Hudson, searching for a new route to China, discovered the Hudson river. "Forty-four years later, in 1662, the settlement of Wiltwyck was started by the Dutch and in the course of 12 years it ranked third in importance in the New Netherlands."

Four Persons Die In Auto Crash

Sedan Owned by Mrs. FDR Was Driven by Her Colored Chauffeur

Four persons were killed and two others seriously injured at 2:15 a. m. Saturday when a sedan owned by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the late President, crashed into the rear of a truck on Route 84, near the West Point auxiliary field at Montgomery.

State Police at Middletown identified the dead as: Edwina Riley, 19, 116th E. 120th street, New York.

Dorothy Harris, 19, Poughkeepsie.

The car was driven by Mrs. Roosevelt's colored chauffeur, James J. Johnson, Jr., 25, of 119 Garden street, Poughkeepsie, who apparently was using the vehicle without permission after driving the former First Lady from her Hyde Park estate to the Poughkeepsie railroad station Friday afternoon.

All the victims were Negroes.

Men's Club Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the First Baptist Church will be held Wednesday evening. This meeting is being held a week ahead of the regular scheduled meeting time because of the fact that the regular meeting date would fall on Memorial Day, May 30. The club president, the Rev. Arthur S. Cole, requests that all members be present as there are matters of importance to be transacted. The meeting time is 8 o'clock.

30 Days for Larceny

John J. Kearney, 53, of the Hios Hotel, Broadway, was arrested this morning by Corporal William Martin of the State Police on a charge of petit larceny. Arraigned before Justice Percy Bush he was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. It was charged that Kearney took a watch belonging to Harry Lawlor of the Saugerties road, by whom he had been employed.

Deputies Do Janitor Work

Men available for "trusties" at the county jail reached the vanishing point Saturday and deputies at the court house were faced with the necessity of cleaning up around the court house and sweeping the front walks over the weekend. There is a fairly sizable list of prisoners awaiting trial, but they cannot be used for this work.

25 Days in Jail

Edward A. Baker, 70, of Cortland, N. Y., arrested in the town of Lloyd by Corporal Metzger of the State Police on a disorderly conduct charge, was brought to the Ulster county jail Sunday to serve a 25 day sentence imposed by Justice Arthur B. Merritt.

Army Fixes 40 As Discharge Age

Enlisted Men May Apply for Release if They're in That Group

Washington, May 21 (AP)—The Army today fixed at 40 years the age at which enlisted men may apply for discharge.

The Army only last month had lowered the discharge age to 42 years. An estimated 30,000 enlisted men in the Army are in the 40 and 41 year age groups.

At the same time, the War Department announced that Wacs 40 years of age or over who have served the required period of active duty will be eligible for discharge. It estimated that 8,000 enlisted Wacs will be eligible under this provision.

The new order provided that in the case of men 40 or 41 years of age, commanders will be permitted to retain for not more than 90 days any man for whom a replacement is not available at the time he requests discharge.

The War Department said that "when the military situation permits" a further reduction in the age limit will be made.

The department contended that further reduction could not be made at present "without jeopardizing military operations or slowing down the release of combat veterans who have earned the right to discharge under the point system on the basis of long and arduous service."

"Through the use of a heavily weighted factor for parenthood, the point system provides individual consideration for age, the department said, adding that the average age of fathers is several years above the average for soldiers without children.

One year of active duty either in this country or overseas is required to make Wacs of 40 years or over eligible for discharge.

Lindsey was a platoon leader in the 10th Regiment of the First Army First Division when the Nazis counter-attacked near Hammel, Germany, last November 16. A fresh company of Germans, aided by five tanks, concentrated the full force of their assault on the remnants of his platoon.

Although wounded in the knee, Lindsey refused to be evacuated. Time and again he repulsed the advancing Nazis with his accurate rifle fire. When his ammunition gave out, he fixed his bayonet and, exposing himself to fire, met the enemy in open terrain.

Closing in, he slashed and stabbed, killing three and capturing two. During the entire action he accounted personally for 29 killed, an untold number of wounded, and three captured. He also knocked out two machine guns and captured two others.

Lindsey arrived in New York by plane yesterday from Czechoslovakia. Told of the plans for today's ceremony, he said:

"Boy, that's something, holding the President, I'm sure glad I made it on time."

Supreme Court Upholds Nevada Divorce Ruling

Washington, May 21 (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld a North Carolina Supreme Court finding that a Nevada six-week divorce was invalid because a bona-fide residence was not established there.

Justice Frankfurter delivered the court's 6-3 opinion. Justice Black wrote a dissent in which Justice Douglas and Rutledge concurred.

Black asserted that the court's finding would "cast a cloud over the lives of countless numbers of the multitude of divorced persons in the United States."

Black added that the decision "undermines and makes uncertain the validity of every uncontested divorce decree."

The court in a 1942 decision held that Nevada's six-week divorces are valid and must be recognized by other states.

Today's decision was given on protest by Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Williams of Pineola, N. C., that the North Carolina courts refused to recognize the high tribunal's decision of two years ago, and as a result they were being subjected to "unjust persecution."

Body Is Found in River

Edgewater, N. J., May 21 (AP)—The upper half of a human torso was found floating in the Hudson river and Detective Lieut. Nathan H. Allyn of the Bergen county prosecutor's office said it was apparently another part of the body of a slain Fair-Lawn racketeer. Allyn said it was tied in a burlap bag, was minus the head and arms, and showed signs of having been hacked with a sharp instrument.

The lower portion of the body of Joseph Mastropolo, 32, Fair Lawn, was found May 8, wrapped in a white tablecloth, at almost the same spot in the river. Allyn said Mastropolo had a long police record.

shipped under one classification in the south and under a different, lower-rate classification in the east. Henceforth, said L.C.C., a particular article must move nationwide under the same classification.

Directed that differences in "class" rates now existing throughout the country be reduced to a minimum, except for the Pacific coast which asked for no reduction. The effect of this order virtually eliminates territorial rate divisions which the south and west contended have placed their sections at an industrial disadvantage with the east.

For this revision the commission recommended that a class-rate scale approximately 15 per cent higher than present first-class rates in eastern territory be established as a base. This will result in higher rates for the east and lower rates for the south and west.

Because years may be required to make these changes, the commission directed that temporary relief be provided, effective August 30, by increasing all class rates within eastern territory by 10 per cent and lowering all other class rates except those west of the Rocky Mountains by 10 per cent.

Although applying only to class rates as distinguished from commodity rates which govern a larger share of all shipments, the decision was acclaimed in the south and west because most manufactured goods move on class rates.

As a result, spokesmen for these sections contended in the six-year fight before the I.C.C., lower production costs outside the east are wiped out by the high shipping rates charged for finished goods. They said an article costing five cents to make in the south might have to be sold in New York city at a price higher than the same item turned out in the east at a cost of seven cents.

Railroad and eastern industrial representatives countered these contentions before the commission by asserting it costs more on a ton-mile basis to haul freight to less populous sections and that the south and west already enjoy advantages in certain commodity rates.

Class rates are applied to the shipment of articles of the same general character which are placed in a class or category and where the shipment is not large enough to demand a commodity rate.

Commodity rates apply principally to carload shipments of single or closely related commodities being moved at a specified price for a specified haul. Products customarily moved on commodity rates include such things as coal, lumber, grain and cotton.

Investiture Is Held For Girl Scout Troop

Investiture services for the newly organized Girl Scout troops of First Presbyterian Church were held Friday evening in Ramsey Hall. The services opened with the invocation by the Rev. William J. McVey, pastor, and was followed by the pledge of allegiance and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Mrs. Clarence Mullen, leader, Mrs. Fred Meeker, assistant leader of Brownie Troop No. 53; Mrs. Casper Souers, leader, and Mrs. John R. Henry, assistant leader of Girl Scout Troop No. 53, were invested by Mrs. Parker K. Brinlier, commissioner of Ulster county, who also presented them with their pins.

Twenty-one Brownies were presented with pins by their leader after which they sang the Brownie song. The Trefoil Candle lighting service was used to invest Girl Scout Troop No. 53. Mrs. Brinlier lighted the leader's candle and the scouts in turn lighted their candles from the leaders. Each recited a Girl Scout Law and placed the candle in the trefoil holder. After giving the Girl Scout Promise, the girls were presented with their pins by Mrs. Souers. Nineteen scouts were invested.

Troop 53 under the direction of Mrs. Henry dramatized the 10 Girl Scout Laws, showing the wrong and right way to live up to them. Both groups sang the Hymn of Scouting and closed the services with the singing of taps and the Girl Scout Prayer. The new troops were welcomed to the church organizations by the Rev. Mr. McVey.

The troops were organized by Mrs. Fred Stang, Mrs. Burton Schwab, Mrs. John Weiss, Mrs. Walter Canutt, and Mrs. William McVey, the troop committee, assisted by Mrs. Eugene MacConnell, organization chairman of the Girl Scout Council.

More Brownies and scouts are to be invested in June after the requirements have been met by the girls. The Brownies meet on Thursday afternoon and Troop 53 on Tuesday afternoon in Ramsey Hall.

TEENAGERS NOT THE ONLY OFFENDERS

I really don't want—nor do I intend—to make this column a clearing station for complaints against the teenagers! It does, however, happen that many of the letters sent me lately have been concerned with their behavior. Today came this one: "In our town, the teen-age boys and girls crowd from three to six abreast on the sidewalk, laughing and talking and forcing everyone to walk out into the road to get past. What I can't understand is how they who have perfectly good eyesight can look at people having to step off the sidewalk and make a detour around them and never notice!" To this, the only suggestion I can offer is to persuade the selectmen (or take steps against sidewalk obstructions (of all ages) by posting notices against this behavior and obliging the unmindful to pay fines.

Writing Over Engraving

Dear Mrs. Post: My invitations were all engraved, but not addressed. And then I had to go to the hospital and the wedding was postponed. I'm all right again and we would like to make the final plans again. But what about those invitations? Can I use them and how?

Answer: If you write in the day of the month very neatly with a fine pen (couldn't you choose the same day of the week and hour?), no one will find anything to criticize in the obviously necessary alteration.

A Dubious Tipping Question

Dear Mrs. Post: Possibly this situation is too unusual but if you can give it space, we will greatly appreciate your printing it. A friend of ours, who was with a lady, recently hailed our chauffeur, alone in the car, and asked him if he would drive the lady to the station as she could not get a taxi, and was running short of time. The station being only a quarter of a mile away, our man readily agreed to drive her. At the station she got out of the car and thanked him but made no attempt to give him any sort of remuneration for his trouble. We all think she should have given him a tip but would like you to supply the correct answer.

Answer: Her "thank you" was sufficient and proper. It is not customary to give a private chauffeur a tip for such a short service as this. Had she been your house guest and he had driven her several times alone, it would have been correct to tip him upon being left by him at the station. In this situation the only "indebtedness" was for the gas used—which belonged to you!

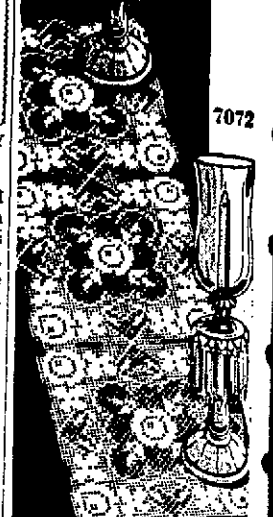

What percentage of the dinner bill should be left for a tip? The answer is found in Mrs. Post's leaflet, "General Suggestions on Tipping," obtainable for a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Tenants Are Given Law's Protection, Director Explains

Tenants of a house or apartment which changes ownership during their tenancy are entitled to substantial protection against hasty eviction, Mr. Hoag, area rent director for the Poughkeepsie Rental Area, stated today. This is true even though the new owner wishes to occupy the premises himself, Mr. Hoag said.

He stressed the fact that the number of evictions arising out of the sale of rented houses is increasing and that it is important for both purchasers and tenants to be familiar with their rights and obligations in such cases.

In general, the tenant of a house which has been sold since December 1, 1942, may continue to occupy the premises at the established rent unless possession for his own occupancy is required by the new owner. Even then the tenant will usually have three months to find new quarters, Mr. Hoag said.

If the purchaser of a rented house wishes to dispossess a tenant and occupy it himself, he must first file a petition with the Area Rent Office for permission to institute eviction proceedings in accordance with local laws and regulations. The Area Rent Office will notify the tenant that petition has been filed.

"The Rent Office will not give a landlord a certificate authorizing him to institute eviction proceedings unless at least 20 per cent of the purchase price of the dwelling has been paid in cash," Mr. Hoag pointed out. "Further, in any case where the intent of the law has been violated by acts or statements which do not line up with the facts, the Area Rent Office is under a duty to consider all such facts."

If the landlord's petition is granted, a copy of the form will be sent to the tenant, but this does not constitute an order to move, Mr. Hoag explained. Eviction is not ordered or authorized by the Office of Price Administration, but by local authorities under laws and ordinances.

After the landlord files the petition, a three months' waiting period will usually be required before eviction proceedings may be started, Mr. Hoag pointed out.

"There are a few special circumstances in which the Area Rent Office will permit a new owner to proceed to gain occupancy before the expiration of the three months' period," Mr. Hoag explained, "but these are the exceptions rather than the rule."

Britons Need Patience

Britons are called upon to use a lot of patience in getting ordinary services performed. It takes time to get laundry back, to get shoes soled, clothes cleaned or mended, carpets renovated and photographs made. One disgruntled Londoner declared he wanted all those things done, and had to take one after the other, it would take two years of waiting.

If the St. Louis Browns retain the American League championship, they may have their ancient nemesis—the New York Yankees—to thank.

In capturing both ends of a double header from the Bronx Bombers yesterday, 10-1 and 5-2, the Browns jumped right into the thick of the flag fight, tied with Detroit for second place, only a game behind the league-leading Chicago White Sox.

The twin triumph was the eighth and ninth in succession over the Yankees in a carryover streak from last season. Their victory on the final day last October gave the Browns their first American League pennant.

Nelson Potter and Bob Muncie were the Yankees' spotters yesterday. Each won his third game, Potter yielding only four hits and Muncie spacing nine hits effectively in the nightcap.

The White Sox protected their first-place birth by defeating Boston twice, 4-2 and 8-2, to drop the Red Sox into the cellar.

Pitching continued to be the White Sox forte as Thornton Lee and Orval Grove went the route for Chicago's 15th and 16th complete game in 22 contests.

The largest crowd of the major league season, 51,340, of which 46,575 paid, saw the National League-leading New York Giants divide a twin-bill with the Pittsburgh Pirates at the Polo Grounds. The Giants won the opener, 5-1, as Bill Voiselle gained his eighth straight triumph without defeat. Preacher Roe handed the New Yorkers their first shut-out of the season, 4-0, in the nightcap on four hits.

The Chicago Cubs freed the Brooklyn Dodgers twice, 4-2 and 4-1, before 37,708 paid customers, to move into fourth place in the National League. Paul Derringer won his fifth game in the opener and Hank Wyse his fourth triumph in the nightcap.

After Stubby Overmire, Detroit's lefty, has beaten Washington in the opener, 4-1, for his initial victory of the season, Marino Pieretti pitched the Senators to a 1-0 triumph over Al Benton. Outfielder George Binks' double in the ninth scored Joe Kuhel with the winning run.

Bucky Walters batted rather than pitched his way to his first victory of the year as Cincinnati split with Boston, the Reds winning the opener, 10-8, and dropping the second, 9-4. Walters hit two homers to account for the winning markers in the first game.

Coaker Triplett and Glenn Crawford gained revenge on their old teammates collaborating to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 7-6 victory over the St. Louis Cards, after the Redbirds had won the opener 4-2. Whitey Kurowski homered in each game, while DiMaggio hit one with the bases loaded in the second game.

Cleveland and the Philadelphia Athletics split. The A's won the opener, 6-2, on a four-run outburst in the 10th inning and the Indians copied the nightcap, 4-2. Charlie Sasseway gained his first American League triumph in the opener.

Navy Doesn't Hurt Him

San Antonio, Texas, May 21 (AP)—Smiling Jimmy Demaret, who was golf's top winner several years ago, still can paste that little white pill down the fairways with accuracy despite the fact that his navy duties have permitted only sporadic competition the past two seasons.

Jimmy won three championships in the Texas P.G.A. tournament here over the week-end by shooting six-under-par 282 for 72 holes.

Demaret started out by leading the qualifying for the national P.G.A. with 142 for 36 holes. Then he won the Texas P.G.A. championship, the service men's title and the Texas P.G.A. Open with his total for 72 holes.

Kingston High Has 2 Games At Local Stadium This Week

Port Ewen Bowlers Hold Dinner, Name Officers for Year

Kingston High School baseball team has two home games scheduled for this week at the municipal stadium.

Here is the slate for the uptown park:

Tuesday, 4:15 p. m.—Kingston vs. Poughkeepsie.

Friday, 4:15 p. m.—Kingston vs. Port Jervis.

Tuesday's contest, originally billed to be played in Poughkeepsie, is a free-lance tilt and will serve to put the local tossers in condition for their skirmish with Port Jervis, which is a DUSO League clash.

Coach Pete Hatch, disappointed over the cancellation of last Friday's DUSO contest with Middletown which had to be postponed on account of rain, is looking forward to the Poughkeepsie tilt with fond hopes. The Bridge City squad is always tough and it should give the Maroon a real test to see if the 10-0 win over Saugerties last Tuesday was the real thing or just a spurt.

The Maroon mentor hopes that the extra days of inactivity has not hindered the boys. "If the rain hasn't slowed up my boys," Hatch told the press, "we ought to give Poughkeepsie a run for their money, and if we do, it will be one of our biggest achievements of the year."

It is expected that Cy Brown will get the starting assignment for the Maroon and White since he was supposed to start the postponed Middletown game. This will put Bobby Steltz in line for the twirling job against Port Jervis Friday at the municipal stadium. Brown, who has two victories without a setback to his credit this season hopes to come through with his third win of the season.

Since Kingston has not defeated Poughkeepsie in baseball in several years, Coach Pete Hatch is counting on Cy's coming through. Last season, the Blue and White won over the Maroon by scores of 2-1 and 5-1.

The rest of the Kingston lineup probably will be Crosby at first base, Johnny Vertetis at second, Captain Gus Koch at short, Tex Brown at third base, Dick Dulin in left field, Red Corline in center, George Glaser in right, and Bill Glaser catching.

Your savings invested in War Bonds will help stabilize prices now and provide for your own security in the future.

Four field events—the high jump, discus, hammer throw and shotput—also were better than in 1944 while broad jump, pole vault and javelin fell off. Overall, ten of the 16 events were slower while six were better.

Those present were Misses: Floyd Ellsworth, Lillian Walker, William Webster, Jack Short, Herbert Christian, Vincent Meleksi, Henry Schmidt, John Henry, George Bonestell, Josephine Thomas, Harriet Galbreath, Adolph Munson, James Slight, Frederick Spall, Robert J. Torrens, Jr., Howard Sismilia, William Constant, John Reynolds, Albert Munson, Ralph Booth, Edward Mainer, Kenneth Boyce, Oliver Tweedy, Percy Boyce, and the Misses Jessie Torrens, Patricia Laves, Emily Lounsbury, Barbara Clark, Marie O'Donnell, Mary Duffy, Helen Schryver, Mary Polhemus, Grace Faltbrother, and Patricia O'Donnell. Slower Flashes

West Point, N. Y., May 21 (AP)—Maybe it was because of inclement weather conditions, but competitors in the annual IC-4A track and field competition generally turned in slower times than a year ago.

A comparison by the Associated Press showed today that seven of the nine running events in Saturday's meet were slower. Oddly, Clyde Scott of the championship navy team and Jerry Morrow of arms, bettered the 1944 time in

Busy Bat-maker

Warsaw, N. Y., May 21 (AP)—Farmer George Nesbitt turned out a few baseball bats on an old lathe to give to local teams to relieve a shortage and now finds himself with a thriving business.

Using seasoned white ash from his own and other wood lots in the county, Nesbitt is fashioning 1,000 hard and soft-ball bats a week. The demand is so far exceeding his production rate, Nesbitt asserts. He is now forced to fill orders for 1,000 with a dozen.

Hitler and Goering Parted Over Nazi Production Failure

Fuehrer's Secretaries Give Inside Story About Relations Break Within Party

Berchtesgaden, May 21 (AP)—Hitler's secretaries said today the inability of the German Air Force to meet the challenge of British, American and Russian aircraft gave him some of his worst moments of the war.
It was directly responsible for the coolness that grew up between Hitler and Hermann Goering.
The secretaries said the coolness between Hitler and Goering finally brought on an open break between the two and when it was all over Hitler had worked himself into such a state that his physician ordered him to bed for a week.
Seven confidential secretaries who recorded the secrets of the star chamber sessions between Hitler and his henchmen provided their details today after refreshing their memories from their shorthand notes.
The historic February, 1944, offensive by the British and American air forces—which was designed to wipe out German fighter production and clear the way for the Allied invasion—produced the first rift with Goering.
"The production of German fighters bogged down completely in February, 1944," Hans Helling, who seems most familiar with German Air Force affairs, related.
"The upshot was that production was transferred from the Air Ministry to the Ministry of Munitions and Armaments."
Production Is Removed
The shift removed production from Goering's province.
"There have been many excuses from Goering that (Production Minister Albert) Speer's stupid manpower policies were to blame for the low production," Helling said.
"But the sharpest differences between Hitler and Goering were over fundamental matters. Hitler constantly preached that he must have superiority in the air. He realized that from the start. But he advocated a light, fast, high-altitude bomber—like the British Mosquito—whose only defense would be its speed. Goering refused to agree that his two basic types, the Messerschmitt 109 and the Focke-Wulf 190 were inadequate."
"Hitler fretted because planes were not armed with heavier caliber guns."
"Carefully hoarding all the fighters he could to meet the ever-increasing threat of invasion, Hitler was able to scrape up 12 squadrons of 68 planes apiece a day—816 planes."
"So many planes were ruined in moving them around to forward airfields, though, that the average squadron's strength was only 35 planes when the invasion did come."
"From the conversation between Goering and Hitler it seemed that was one of the worst faults of the Luftwaffe—so many planes were ruined before they ever got into the air."
"What about the Heinkel 177 that Goering mentioned?" Helling was asked.
"All seven secretaries made wry faces and comforted and gestured their contempt."
"If Goering hadn't killed Hitler the HE-177 would have," said Helling. He referred to Hitler's bodyguard in Berlin who, the secretaries say, was detailed to see that Hitler did not fall into the hands of the Russians and to kill him and dispose of the body.
"That was the biggest flop of the war," he added. "They had 50,000 people working on the production of that plane that took 100 days of fuel for one flight and only got to top speed of 250 miles an hour."
Would Have Been Shock
That was the bomber which Goering said would have really surprised the Allies if he had ever been able to get it into action. But from the reaction of Hitler's secretaries it would have been the Germans who would have been surprised.
The production of jet-propelled planes was equally disappointing.
"They were supposed to be ready to go into production at the beginning of 1943," Helling said. But it was a year and a half later before they could see any results. Altogether 1,200 jets and 2,500 power elements were produced.
The surprise attack on Allied air bases on the continent on January 1, 1945 during the Ardennes offensive was staged strictly against Hitler's wishes, Helling said. He continued:
"Hitler said he never wanted to attack on that scale again."
Here the men who recorded the conferences between Hitler and his closest advisers—and many of the conferences at which Hitler himself was not present—said Hitler never was truthfully informed of American production figures. The figures were deliberately withheld from him for fear of his anger at Germany's inability to match them.
One of Hitler's three outstanding tantrums of the war was thrown as a result of the defeat of the German surface at Stalingrad and the collapse of the effort to supply the troops by air transport," said Ludwig Krieger, eldest of the secretaries.
"Another was in February, 1945, when Goering was supposed to attack in Pomerania. Hitler had told him to wait a few days longer, but Goering attacked prematurely and failed."
The third tantrum was when Hitler and Goering had words in September, 1944, over the continued failure of the Luftwaffe. Hitler was ill for a week and had to be put to bed before he recovered from the effects.

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(A.P. Foreign News Analyst)

The unity of the Big Three is likely to get a sharp and revealing test in the explosive situation created by Yugoslavia's territorial claims against Italy and Austria—and the Anglo-American order to their diplomatic representatives and nationals in Yugoslavia to prepare for possible evacuation in the event of a showdown is near.

This crisis revolves about dynamic Marshal Tito, Yugoslavia's Red politico-military chief, and the position in a nutshell is this: Tito is claiming Italian territory around Trieste and Gorizia, and east of the Isonzo river. He also claims Austrian territory in the Aillach-Klagenfurt zone. His troops occupied these areas.

British Field Marshal Alexander, as supreme Allied commander in the Mediterranean theatre, asked Tito to withdraw his soldiers from the disputed territory and let his claims be settled at the peace conference. Tito, while expressing willingness to have his claims thus adjudicated, replied that his military occupation wouldn't "prejudice the decisions of the peace conference."
This brought a pungent message at the week-end from Alexander to the Allied troops in his command. He declared that it is "Marshal Tito's apparent intention to establish his claims by force of arms and military occupation."
Alexander's statement was issued Saturday and yesterday the United States and Britain ordered their diplomatic corps and citizens in Yugoslavia to be prepared for evacuation. Meanwhile Tito's command: Failure to buy bonds helps only the enemy.

manders moved their main headquarters out of Trieste (though there was no relaxation of Yugoslav military control to be seen in the city) and it was reported without confirmation that Tito had agreed to withdraw from Austrian territory.

Well, that's the way things stand now—a tense and dangerous situation. Small wonder that the British Press is urging an early meeting of President Truman, Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill to iron out this and other pressing imbroglios.

Marshals Tito long has stood high with Moscow. Indeed, his leadership in Yugoslavia has been so efficient and strong that Britain and America also have given him moral and material support in this fight against the Axis forces. There never has been any question but that he was orienting his program with his eyes on Russia. The big question now, of course, is what attitude Moscow will take towards Tito's stand regarding the Italian and Austrian territory.

In considering the implications of this dispute, it's important to note that Yugoslavia falls within Russia's new sphere of influence in the Balkan Peninsula. This also is Britain's prewar zone of influence—which complicates the situation.
Yugoslavia is swinging hard towards the "Left" and may abolish her monarchy. In any event she bids fair to become another of the nations which, like Poland, will become part of the security barrier which Russia is creating in eastern Europe and the Balkans.

Yugoslav Forces Move From Austria In British Trucks

Yugoslav Newspaper Takes Conciliatory Tone Toward Allies in Trieste Affair

By LYNN HEINZELING

Trieste, May 21 (AP)—Yugoslav forces which penetrated into Carinthia and Styria began moving out of Austria in force today in trucks provided by the British Eighth Army and are expected to be outside the border by tonight.
At the same time a Yugoslav-controlled newspaper here adopted a conciliatory tone toward the message of Marshal Sir, Harold Alexander to his troops on Trieste, although a confused situation of dual occupation still prevailed here.

The newspaper Il Nostro Avvenire gave Trieste citizens and most of Marshal Tito's soldiers what probably was their first news of Alexander's statement and brought the gravity of the dispute into the open in Trieste, but the tone of the editorial seemed to offer the prospect of a settlement.
"The maintenance of peace is the task of everybody," said the editorial.

"Now less than ever must we yield to the intrigues of our enemies who always have tried in vain to spread discord among the Allies."
"Tito's Yugoslavia does not wish now that the people have reached the peace they longed for so long—to be the cause of perturbation, but she must have the right to validate her dignity and respect and while one can discuss everything and find a Pacific solution to satisfy various parties there can be no negotiation on rights and dignity."

Military Still Holds
Partisan patrols meanwhile still moved through the streets of the city and there was no indication of any relinquishing of Yugoslav military administration of the city.

Il Nostro Avvenire declared Yugoslavia's reply had been "firm and dignified" and did not draw from the previous position that the occupation and administration of Trieste was proper and in line with the practice followed everywhere by the Soviet Union and the Anglo-Americans.

It declared Yugoslavia was willing to leave the ultimate disposition of Trieste and surrounding areas to a peace conference.

There was no explanation, however, of previous declarations that Trieste, Istria and Austria had become part of a "greater Yugoslavia," nor of the substitution of Yugoslav names for the previous Italian names of villages east of the Isonzo.

Bitter Struggle Shape Over Price Control Future

Food. You bore a few holes in it and pretty soon your liver will be gone."
Taft has put his views into a proposed amendment to the Price Control Act. He would continue price control as it is until the end of this year. Then he would require a "liberalizing" of controls by providing that price ceilings must allow a margin above cost equivalent to the average the industry or distributor had in the years 1938, 1939 and 1940. He also would lift wage controls January 1.

The amendment was offered to legislation, now in the banking committee, to extend the Price Control Act unchanged for one year beyond June 30.
Chairman Wagner (D., N. Y.), has held the bill up while the administration maneuvered to satisfy critics of O.P.A.'s meat price policies. He hoped that if this were done the extension legislation could be passed without controversy.
War Mobilization Director Fred M. Vinson's order last week for additional meat subsidies was intended to still that storm. But some legislators still are not satisfied and will seek amendments which would boost meat prices.
And in the meantime the price-recovery issue has developed to raise the prospect of prolonged debate no matter what comes from the committee.
